Message

The Federal Direct Unsubsidized loan is an educational loan that must be repaid, with interest, even if you do not complete your academic program. You have the right to cancel or reduce your loan. Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans require that you pay the interest, which begins accruing as soon as funds have been disbursed. You may choose to make interest payments on the loan or have the interest added to your principal balance (capitalized) when your repayment schedule begins. All students, regardless of need, are eligible for Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans (students must still meet other eligibility criteria, such as maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress and minimum enrollment). For the 2013-14 academic year, the interest rate for Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans is 3.86% for undergraduate students and 5.41% for graduate students. Repayment of Federal Direct Unsubsidized loans begins six months after you graduate or drop below 6 credit hours. The standard repayment term is 10 years, although other repayment terms may also be available to you. More information is available at affordability.ku.edu/financialaid/loans/federal.shtml.

The student also has the option to adjust the award amounts. Once the student puts a check in the 'Accept' column, a writeable field will appear in the 'Accepted' column in the row of the award the student wishes to adjust. This field will populate with the original award amount, but the student has the ability to now change the acceptance amount.
